1.0 Purpose

The purpose of this document is to provide an overview of biochemistry in a format that takes advantage of the capabilities of multimedia computers. Updates and expansions will make this multimedia document more comprehensive. Intended users are students and educators in settings ranging from elementary to college. Please feel free to share the unregistered version with friends, associates, and post it on Internet sites. We hope that this multimedia document is a useful addition to your software library.

This document was written in the portable document format (PDF) using Adobe Acrobat 3.0 and Lotus Ami Pro 3.1. The Acrobat Reader program can be obtained at <http://www.adobe.com/prodindex/acrobat/readstep.html>.

Acrobat Reader is available for the following platforms: Macintosh, Windows, Sun Solaris, SunOS, IBM AIX, HP-UX, Silicon Graphics IRIX, LINUX, OS/2, and MS-DOS. Adobe Inc. does not endorse or support this Biochem document in any way.

Planned expansions are:

Version 2.0 (Spring 1998)

Review of Basic Chemistry (pH, ions, etc.)
Expanded Drug and Human Disease Sections
Expanded cell biology and lab techniques sections
